Hi, I'm Devin!

I'm so glad you're here — and I can't wait to start planning something amazing with you.

My love for travel has always come down to one thing: the moments you create with the people you care about most. Whether it's exploring a new city with family, trying something completely out of your comfort zone with friends, or finally checking that dream destination off your list — those experiences have a way of becoming the stories you tell for years.

Over time, friends and family started coming to me whenever they had a trip to plan. Turns out, I love the planning just as much as the traveling itself. Researching the right cruise, finding that perfect tour, tracking down the hotel that makes a honeymoon feel truly special — it's something I genuinely enjoy doing. So I made it official.

At Epic Voyage Travel, my goal is simple: take the stress out of planning so you can focus on the fun. You share your vision, and I'll handle the rest — from the big logistics to the little details that make a trip unforgettable.

I am genuinely passionate about travel - this is a craft, not a side gig. I'm so excited to help you plan your next epic voyage. Let's get started!

— Devin

FAQ

01. Why should I work with a travel advisor instead of booking myself?

I design trips with intention, handle logistics, offer vetted recommendations, and provide support if things change — so you can focus on enjoying the experience, not managing it.

02. Can you work with any budget?

I'm happy to talk through expectations, but I'm not always the best fit for ultra-budget travel. Our focus is on value, experience, and thoughtful planning rather than finding the lowest possible price.

03. When should I reach out to start planning?

The earlier, the better. For most trips, I recommend starting at least 3–6 months in advance. More complex or peak-season travel may require additional lead time.

04. How do we communicate during the planning process?

Primarily via email and text, with scheduled calls as needed. This keeps everything organized and ensures nothing gets missed.

05. Can I upgrade my service later?

Yes. Many clients start with one level of support and upgrade as their plans evolve.
